I would first like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Wajahat Rehan for sending me this very patriotic book, which has surely taken a lot of thought, allegiance and love for our nation.

In this day and age specially, when our country is under constant criticism from international authorities, it is a pleasure to see that people still exist who take pride in what our nation has to offer.

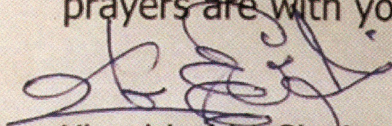

She has shown the true colors of our countries various facets, its wondrous nature, its abundance of natural resources, its versatility, its rich heritage and culture. All this has been extensively elaborated in four volumes.

Upon reading this book, I am of the thought that this should receive recognition on a government level and be made part of our academic curriculum so that the youth of our nation would be able to understand and learn to appreciate all the aspects of what our country has to offer. This book can also be used for research purposes and should be available in all libraries and educational institutes.

I believe it is a great achievement of Wajahat Rehan for the amount of work, dedication and passion she has put together to ensemble a book of such a nature, on the different provinces of Pakistan. Her efforts are commendable and she deserves national and international recognition.

This book should be perceived as a "pride of performance!"

I wish you all the best in any of your future endeavors. My prayers are with you!!
